A real story of non English native writer

By Mohammed Amerullah Qureshi

Day # 1

I am one of the laziest persons with bad English writing skills, but I am able to present my work in front of you, right now whatever you are reading.

Who had given me this inspiration to take action? Of course from the users of one of the marketing forum! See what happen on the day one, when I had posted a thread on that forum by the Title: "It's too long, I did not made any money"

See what does they replied to me:

First reply to my post:

"I am not sure I am following you. What is too long ??? "

I wrote so badly that he did not even understand my sentence, what exactly I was tried to say.

Lol! But that made me write something more detail. Not before I got some more showering from other fellow users like below:

" Is this a sob story forum or a marketing forum? C'mon. You're going to complain because those of us who teach charge you money? Do you expect me to give away my Home Study Course which I just spent weeks of 20+ hour days on -- for free? I DON'T THINK SO!

If you go around with this entitlement mentality, instead of working for what you want, you will remain poor. It's up to you. No one else.

Now quit feeling sorry for yourself and get to work! "

And other three were just thank this guy for his practical response, which is always hard to swallow. But I did it and survived and found lot of motivation.

Then the things were slow down and all other people were become easy on me. They came-up with great sympathetic and more doable advices.

Day #2

I took action and bought a domain name, based on my researched keywords. The keyword research which I did one month back and never took any action, which is common for me to collect the list of researched keywords and store on my PC's hard drive, for last more than 4 years I was having piles of keywords research lists, which never utilized. Some time I do take printouts and later it becomes food for my hungry garbage can sitting like a pet in my living cum dining room.

To make the story short finally this domain is with me. Thank God. Again this domain name is also an inspiration from one of the site I was browsing the other day.

Here are few initial steps I took for my new domain name:

1. I setup a Wordpress blog on this domain with default installation
2. I also started writing daily one article related to my target keywords
3. I setup the following Plug-in from Wordpress

(this is one of the thing I learned from one online course I took, again without any action since then. Plus browsing Wordpress plug-in directory, which is amazingly contains everything you need for a good blog and I am listing those plug-in here for your information.)

List of essential plug-in which I suggest you to have on your blog:

Day #3

Well! My blog was up and running, it was time to spread some words around the neighborhood, so that I can rank my articles higher on the Google pages and with that I can also get some initial traffic for this site.

Step 1.

Open the web browser and go to google.com and search for the phrase " add url "

First result is for Google link: www.google.com/addurl/ click on this link and did the following entries in the text box presented:

URL: <http://www.onlinebusinesstranings.com>

Comment: A great resource for all of your online business trainings

Optional : Enter the word shown on the above figure

Click on the button "Add URL"

That took me to the "Thank You" page and there is another link called Google webmaster tools was presented.

Step 2.

Click on the Google webmaster tools to go to the Google Dash Board.

There is lot of things available, but I want to talk you about two important things, which I just did on the Google Dashboard

Step 3.

Verify the site, by uploading an .html file on onlinebusinesstrainings.com with from: <http://www.OnlineBusinessTrainings.com>

Google generated key and came back to Google to click verify. This is a very easy step to follow. I have to say that Google is having a great help there.

Step 4.

I submitted a Google xml sitemap file which I was generate from the plugin and Google provided the link to click and it was verified the presence of the file in my www directory.

There are plenty of help documents available on Google for web masters, it is a must place for all the web sites owners to have a look and perform at least the above two steps.

After these steps I waited for almost 24 hours to check whether Google will index my domain which contains all my keywords and give me some priority, but no way. I did not found any advantage so far for this domain name. I was little bit frustrated that, most expert fell the necessity of the target keyword in your domain name, which is not working for me.

Day #4

Again I was browsing through one of the forums I usually hangout and I found this great refreshing tip at the right time, when I was in rhythm of taking actions.

A fantastic 3 steps plan, which I will put here for your reference:

1. Submit article <http://www.goarticles.com>
2. Submit article to around 30 to 40 Social Bookmarking sites
3. Make free blogs on other places and link your article

But look at here; what exactly I did here:

I did not follow the first step, I am kind of scary about my English and don't want to take get any negative impact from articles directory.

I followed the Second Step, because I was hearing this from almost eight to ten web sites, they are showing the benefits of social networking. They even mention the free web site tool <http://www.socialmarker.com> that allows you to bookmark 49 social network sites. This is tool is cool...

But believe me it is tuff specially first time and you know I am very lazy person so I just able to bookmark on the following sites only, here is the list of social bookmarking sites I used:

1. twitter
2. propeller
3. delicious
4. digit
5. reddit

Look at the result here, with in 3 hours I checked Google, my site was indexed. I have bookmarked 2 articles but one of them became on 4th position on the first page. I don't know how this formula works. But it did wonders for me. Yet, my site is not shown for my target key words.

Day #5

After some more reading from different places, I gathered some courage to take the second step of that plan and I submitted my two articles to GoArticles.com.

To my surprise they have very simple procedure for submitting articles, with out any hassle my articles was online, in fact they send some traffic to my site and there are around 17 clicks to affiliate link ,however no sales.

Actually I submitted to another three places today:

1. Submitted my two articles to GoArticles.com
2. Submitted another social bookmarking site called dropjack.com

(This site is recommended by the GoArticle.com only in their article submission approval email.)

3. Another suggestion from them is myweb.yahoo.com, it is surprise package.

I left for the day to my bed; after a busiest and constructive working day.

Day #6

I woke-up early morning and after checking some email and all then hesitantly I open Google, (as per my daily routine since last 5 days, curiously waiting to see my site on the first page or any where in the result up to 10 pages) and type my keyword phrase "online business trainings" and I was jumping up and down, don't ask why, Oh my God!!!!

My web site is on the first page of the Google.com. That is what I want and that is why I worked so hard to see my baby listed on first page of Google.com

I am very happy at the moment, not because I got this ranking by fluke, but literally I worked more than four hours a day on this site, by writing daily an article and doing all this submissions work etc.

It is really not possible at all without the inspiration and encouragement from my friends, to the heroes who fired me with a lot of great suggestions and motivated me to pull my socks to do something.

I will conclude this report by thanking again to people who had provided me the courage and inspiration.

To The Success

Amer
